

RecycleNow™ ELECTRONIC WASTE RECYCLING

Our vision is to be the recognized leader of sustainability in the environmental services industry.

Businesses today are faced with growing concerns over the inappropriate handling of end-of-life electronics (e-waste) including improper landfilling, data theft, and the export of materials out of the United States to developing nations. This concern is escalated by rapid changes in technology, causing materials to become obsolete at an increasing pace. As many states have enacted e-waste legislation and momentum for federal legislation grows, the landscape for how these materials are managed within each company is changing.

Whether you are looking for an e-waste recycler or a company capable of handling your entire waste management needs, PSC can provide sustainable and efficient solutions. All PSC services are tracked, measured, and reported both internally and externally to drive continuous improvements in the safety, service quality, and cost efficiency of your program. Let PSC design an e-waste service solution for you.

PSC's RecycleNow program is fostered by several core components:

- National Footprint
- PSC Technicians for Service and Transport
- Secure Data Destruction
- Cradle-to-cradle Audit Process
- Certificate of Recycling
- Contractual Indemnity

livegreennow™
Program Initiatives

As a nationally recognized leader of hazardous and non-hazardous waste management and environmental services, PSC's livegreennow™ sustainability program increases efficiencies that reduce operating costs, grows our business by providing sustainable solutions for our clients, and promotes improved social conditions within the company and throughout the communities we serve. At PSC, sustainability is a long-term strategic approach measuring the company's comprehensive impact on economic, environmental and social systems.
